Incident to the filing of a claim against the town of Putnam by a New Haven transfer company on account of an automobile truck breaking through a bridge in that town on May 9, there is considerable interest among officials of all nearby towns, because of the likelihood of a similar accident happening in any town hereabouts. Most of the small bridges in outlying sections of Windham county towns are wooden structures, not built to stand the strain caused by the passage of a heavily loaded four-ton truck, for in-stance, and unless autotruck drivers some care and discretion as to passing over these bridges town offi-cials believe that the towns should not be held wholly responsible for such accidents as may occur by little bridges going down under weights that they were never built to withstand. ## LYTLE-JOHNSON MARRIAGE. As Clerk Flagg Knows.

ton paper of Thursday was a story, under a lurid head line stretching across the full top of the first page, to the effect that William Lytle, Jr of Worcester, son of Colonel Lytle, former member of the governor's counil in Massachusetts and Miss Thyra Linnea Johnson, an artist's model. Worcester, had been married in this city Tuesday.

The story also stated that Colonel Lytle, upon learning of his matrimonial adventure, had ordered him "never to darken his door again." "I should worry" is the way Lytle, Jr. is said to have commented on this, as he prepared to leave with his bride

Thursday afternoon that he has no record of having issued a license to Mr. Lytle and Miss Johnson and a search of all marriage licenses issued by him recetly failed to bring one to light. Mr. Flagg said he may have issued one without keeping a duplicate record and that it may yet be in the hands of a clergyman, but he does not think he did, for he could remember, he is quite certain, any such young couple for at least as much time
